History of the IDEMITSU group

Founder Sazo Idemitsu's Thoughts About Harmony

The important thing for people is harmony – getting along well together, helping others and being helped. Related to this are the words gojô gojo, which mean to yield or concede to one another and to help one another. When you concede to and help others, others will do the same for you. This gojô gojo is a particular virtue, the dôtoku of Japan.
